This pliant black clay is always pleasantly warm to the touch. Working a block blackfire clay in your hands causes the clay to grow much warmer, granting you a +2 Item bonus on saving throws made to resist cold weather for the duration. You can combine five blocks of clay over the course of a minute to produce a source of warmth equivalent to a small campfire, allowing you to heat a campsite and cook food.

Blackfire clay only produces heat, never light, smoke, or odor. The clay emits warmth for 1 hour before hardening into an unusable lump. A newly created brick of blackfire clay is composed of 10 blocks. The price given is for 1 brick.
